

If you want your child's college savings account to grow with interest, you don't have to do anything else. Your child's account will grow with interest and your contributions.

If you do not want your child's college savings account to grow with interest, fill out this form and return it by email, mail, or call the program staff. If you complete this form, your child's account will only grow with your contributions.

We will assume you want your child's account to grow with interest unless we hear from you.
